Welcome to the new edition of IMSL e News.

As we discussed and informed you all in our last issue, the new IMSL e news will be published quarterly, carrying a new feature every quarter for the benefit of our readers.

It had been a challenging time for me revisiting the newsletter finding different ways of refreshing our knowledge readers while keeping its momentum.

On another note, this issue marks a new term and a new year for IMSL. While we gratefully remember the good achievements of the Institute during the previous year, it is time to move on.

Many new challenges and realities are before us. In keeping with our vision and not forgetting our current means and resources we have a sturdy will to play a catalytic role in inspiring managers to be leaders, while providing a forum for sharing knowledge and best practices, promoting the highest standards of professional conduct and ethical values. This is our mission, a mission that has to be accomplished. This also calls for unity and hard and determined work from all corners. It is only through a deep and positive involvement that we can ensure the accomplishment of our mandate as the premier professional management institute in the country.

So needless to say that we all should get together having realized the national interest and responsibility that is before us. We should think big and act big, for this is the right time that we act "Now" or "Never".

Dr. Dennis Sun, President, Asian Association of Management Organizations (AAMO) paid a goodwill visit to the Institute of Management of Sri Lanka (IMSL) on 14 September 2009. Dr. Sun was joined by Dr. T.F. Lau, Regional Director, and Helen Li, Head of the Operational Office in Hong Kong.

AAMO is a non-profit-making association comprising the National Management Organisations (NMOs) of countries in the Asia Pacific Region. IMSL is the NMO from Sri Lanka, was incorporated by an Act of Parliament in 1988.

The delegation was warmly received at the IMSL by Mr. Anver Dole, President, IMSL and key office bearers. Thereafter the delegation had a lengthy and fruitful discussion with the IMSL officials. The discussions were mainly to share AAMO's support and facilitation for the NMOs, and how in future IMSL could collaborate more with national management organizations within the AAMO for mutual benefit. IMSL was invited to take part in many global events within the AAMO to derive the maximum benefit for its members.

IMSL officials briefed the delegation the number of key activities that were carried out by the IMSL during the recent years, as well as areas that they envisage more collaboration with the NMOs.

At the end of their brief official visit to Sri Lanka, Dr. Sun and his team joined by the President, IMSL left for the AAMO Council Meeting and the Annual Conference of All India Management Association (AIMA) in Chennai.
